1. POLICY DEVELOPMENT/REVIEW

WB calls for more ODA for Viet Nam's development

Ha Noi, 29/11/07: Viet Nam is barrelling towards becoming a country with an average income level equal to world standards by 2010, however the World Bank (WB) says continued assistance is still needed in social areas.

The comments were made by WB Country Director Ajay Chhibber at a press briefing on November 29 about a Consultative Group meeting to be held in Ha Noi next month.

WB Country Director Ajay Chhibber forecasted that foreign direct investment flowing into Viet Nam will strongly increase in comparison with the 16 billion USD commitment by international donors in 2007.

However, the capital chiefly targets those sectors that will generate profits, he said.

“Accordingly, WB will continue to increase projects benefiting from the International Development Association (IDA) – the bank’s concessional or low-cost lending arm for Viet Nam to support the country in poverty reduction, health care and education development, particularly in higher education and infrastructure,” the director said.

The chief WB representative in Viet Nam also said he hoped the international donor community will continue to make a strong commitment to Viet Nam in the coming years.

Chhibber said he would inform foreign donors at the Consultative Group Meeting that Viet Nam is still in need of Official Development Assistance (ODA) in many areas for sustainable development.

The plan will also develop 388 new craft villages for tourism services in 2016-20.

At the Government’s request, the plan is now commented by 64 provinces and expected to be issued by early 2008.

ADB to help Viet Nam implement ODA projects

Ha Noi, 23/11/07: The Asian Development Bank (ADB) announced on November 23 that it will provide a grant worth of 700,000 USD to help Viet Nam improve its ability to implement official development assistance (ODA) projects.

"The grant will help Viet Nam strengthen its ability to absorb development assistance and improve its efficiency in preparing, implementing and evaluating ODA projects and programs," said Eri Honda, senior project management specialist of ADB's Vietnam Resident Mission, in a press release.

The grant will also support implementation of the Ha Noi Core Statement on Aid Effectiveness, which the Vietnamese government and the donor community endorsed in 2005, she added.

According to the ADB, ODA commitments over the past five years totaled about 11.1 billion USD. Only 7.8 billion USD was disbursed, below the target of 9 billion USD. "Slow project implementation has significant consequences on the achievement of Vietnam's development objectives, as well as on the cost of the investments," said Honda.

The ministry said the country and its donors have so far this year signed various projects with a total committed ODA capital of 3.6 billion USD, up 12.3 percent from 2006.

Asian Development Bank's Country Deputy Director Omkar Shrestha said despite Viet Nam's slow disbursement rate there are strong prospects for Viet Nam's development because of the way it actively negotiates aid from the international community.

MARD seeks EU help to upgrade seafood labs

Ha Noi, 13/11/07: The Ministry of Agriculture and Rural Development (MARD) has asked an EU-funded project to help upgrade some seafood labs in Viet Nam to regional status.

The EU project is aimed at helping member countries of the Association of Southeast Asian Nations (ASEAN) improve their testing and examining capacity largely through the construction of food laboratories.

Deputy MARD Minister Luong Le Phuong said the proposal is of vital significance to Viet Nam as ASEAN-standard seafood labs will confirm the credibility and accuracy of the national lab results and local management capacity.

He said ASEAN labs in Viet Nam will also help avoid repeated testing and examinations, thus reducing costs for exporters.

It will help increase the value and export revenues of Vietnamese seafood overseas, he added.

"Seafood hygiene and safety are always given top priority by the Government and the MARD," Phuong said.

The national lab system of the National Fisheries Quality Assurance Veterinary Directorate (Nafiqaved) has met the ISO/IEC 17025 standards. The country now boasts 30 labs that meet international standards.

As a result, Nafiqaved has been recognized as the national authority on controlling the safety and quality of Vietnamese fish and fish products by 42 countries, including 25 members of the European Union.

7. EXPORTS PERFORMANCE

Viet Nam - new fishing power in Asia, says researcher

Sydney, 08/11/07: Viet Nam is now among the major fish-producing and trading countries, said the chairwoman of the Commission of the Australian Centre for International Agriculture, in a paper presented to the Lowy Institute in Sydney on November 7.

In 2004, Viet Nam was the world's 10th largest producer of fish and aquatic products, Dr. Meryl Williams said, adding that the country's aquaculture growth is particularly strong, making it the largest aquaculture producer in Southeast Asia and third in the world in 2004, behind only China and India.

According to Dr. Williams, who was the former director-general of the World Fish Centre until 2004, advances have been greatest in aquaculture in Viet Nam despite its late start and it now comprises more than a third of total fish production.

In 2001, Viet Nam was the world's 10th largest fish exporter, selling 1.8 billion USD and the figure reached close to 2.6 billion USD in 2006, she said.

However, Viet Nam's aggregate fish production also masks underlying signs of overexploitation, while adding to the overall competition for Southeast Asia's increasingly pressured fish resources, she noted.

Catfish- the second largest export commodity of Vietnam aquaculture

Hanoi, 06/11/07: According to Vietnam Association of Seafood Exportation and Processing (VASEP), the export turnover of catfish is being the second largest of Vietnam seafood coming after shrimp.

From the early this year now, more than 272,000 tons of catfish have been exported with the turn-over of more than 710 millions USD, increased by 37.2 % compared to the same period in 2006 accounting for 26% of total seafood export value of Vietnam.

To further increase the export turnover of catfish, Ministry of Agriculture and Rural Development (MARD) requests Seafood Departments resolutely suspend the operation of the enterprises that violate the seafood safety.

Seafood experts anticipate that with the continuously increasing domestic cultivation and reasonable prices of inputs, the catfish exportation will continue making new record. According to the estimation of aquaculture sector, the target of reaching the catfish export turnover of 1 billion USD for this year is definitely feasible.

These figures, compared to 10.2 billion USD in 2006, and 6.4 billion USD in 2005, meant that foreign investment was growing strongly, said Phan Huu Thang, general director of the MPI's Foreign Investment Agency.

"That is the most practical measurement of our efforts to improve the business environment in Viet Nam," Thang said. Viet Nam was ranked number six in the world for investment desirability, after China, India, US, Russia and Brazil, according to UN Conference on Trade and Development 2007.

9. MEETINGS/WORKSHOPS

Poultry breeders look for sustainable growth

HCM City, 12/11/07 : Vietnamese poultry breeders met in Ho Chi Minh City on November 12 to discuss the sustainable development of the nation's poultry industry.

According to Viet Nam Poultry Breeders' Association President and General Secretary Tran Cong Xuan, there are 2,837 poultry farms across the country that produce around 400,000 tonnes of fowl meat and 4-5 billion eggs a year.

Xuan said that while the poultry sector is only just behind the pork industry in meat output, 70 percent of farms are run by households where the application of new technologies and veterinary standards is not given adequate attention.

To help remedy such limitations to sustainable development of the industry, the Ministry of Agriculture and Rural Development's Husbandry

Department suggested that poultry breeding and concentrated breeding areas be zoned off.

The Ministry also recommended that farm-applied breeding methods be strictly adopted.

Participating in the workshop, US Poultry & Egg Association Technical Director Mark Lobstein said his association would continue aiding the organisation of training courses for poultry breeders and exporters in Viet Nam.

He said the association will also provide Vietnamese breeders in rural and remote areas with test-kits to help them quickly identify any viruses killing their fowls in order to take prompt measures to contain it.
